Service Learning WAHS

Opportunities and Requirements for WISH Service Learning

Service learning means giving back to the community with one's time and acquiring new knowledge, wisdom, and/or skills through the process.

How wonderful it is that nobody needs to wait a single moment before starting to improve the world.

-Anne Frank, 1947

What this looks like:

- Community service usually involves volunteering with a non-profit organization. All of the opportunities listed in this flyer are great options.
- Asking “Is there any other way I can be of help?” if you’ve finished a task and don’t know what else to do
- Being respectful of everyone present.

- Listening carefully to instructions.
- Talking to friends and other people when appropriate, but not letting that get in the way of one's work.

What community service is not:

- Community service is not showing up to a volunteer opportunity and being more of an inconvenience than a help. What this would look like:
 - Not working hard (i.e. just staring into space or messing around with friends most of the time).
 - Not listening to directions from the people in charge.
 - Getting in the way of other people doing their jobs.
 - Helping your family by mowing the lawn, taking out the trash, etc. (though those are still great things to do!) do not count. Community service benefits the larger community beyond one's family and current friends.

If you're having trouble finding a way to fulfill your service hours, try:

- Asking a friend where they plan to volunteer and see if whoever is driving him/her can pick you up and take you there as well.
- Speaking to your English teacher.

Requirements

Students must complete the following number of hours for graduation. Hours can be completed during the summer prior to the school year and will be due at the end of April.

15 hours of service learning are required per semester per student

At the end of the service learning quarter, students complete a writing assignment based on their experience.
